Admission and Student Financial Services (ASFS)
1227 Park St., Office of Admission, first floor
Interested in learning about funding for unpaid internships? Curious about graduate school acceptance rates? A CLS staff member will discuss opportunities for professional development and postgraduate success, application advising, career communities, and much more. We welcome parents and guests to this session.

2–3 P.M.  OPTIONAL SPECIAL TOURS
All tours will depart from the first floor of the ASFS building.

- Charles Benson Bear ’39 Recreation and Athletic Center: Are you interested in varsity, intramural, or recreational athletics? Curious about fitness and wellness at Grinnell? Join us for this special tour of the Bear.

- Bucksbaum Center for the Arts: This in-depth tour will stop at the Grinnell College Museum of Art’s Faulconer Gallery, music practice rooms, and theatre, dance, and art studios. While touring the gallery, you’ll also get an overview of the current exhibitions and hear how the museum offers a valuable learning and teaching experience for students, faculty, and the wider community.

- Humanities and Social Studies Center: Explore the newest building on campus. This tour will show the Institute for Global Engagement wing, the atrium, our academic department “neighborhood” system, the Data Analysis and Social Inquiry Lab (DASIL), and more. It will also discuss the history and incentive for creating this new space for the humanities and social studies divisions.

- Robert N. Noyce ’49 Science Center: Want to know what classrooms, research labs, and study spaces look like at Grinnell? Interested in learning more about the 13 departments in the science division? Join us for this special tour of the Noyce Science Center.

2–4 P.M.  MINGLE WITH STAFF AND STUDENTS
ASFS, reception area
Before leaving campus, prospective students are encouraged to complete a program evaluation and collect Grinnell College swag. Drop by anytime to meet with admission staff members and current students who will be present to chat and answer any remaining questions you might have.
